

Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) Studies

The EIS process includes analysis of potential impacts on the environment and ways to mitigate, or reduce, these impacts. Topics to be addressed in the EIS include:

Land Use

Geology/
Soils

Social and Economic Conditions/
Environmental Justice

Water

Vegetation

Visual
Characteristics

Wildlife

Noise

Bats and Birds

Recreation

Protected Species

Interference with Communication
Signals

Prehistoric and
Historic Sites and Traditional Cultural Resources

Air Quality